AT KEAHOHU

Find your home at Holua Kai, Brookfield’s newest oceanfront community, located in Kona’s most sought-after destination. Imagine yourself walking among black, white or green sand beaches, visiting an active volcano, hiking to a 1,000 foot waterfall, or snorkeling pristine waters. There is no place on earth like the Big Island of Hawai‘i.

The largest of the Hawaiian islands, the Big Island’s leeward coast is well-known for its ideal year-round weather conditions, deep-sea fishing (including the annual International Billfish Tournament), and the Ironman World Championship Triathlon. Stretching along 60 miles of lava-lined highways, you can visit national parks, sample fresh Kona coffee in an idyllic mountain town and see iconic landmarks, such as the King Kamehameha Statue in Kapa‘au.

Water enthusiasts can partake in a once-in-a-lifetime experience with a Manta Ray night dive.

Holua Kai is nestled in the heart of Keauhou, a small community which is approximately six miles south of the picturesque, ocean-front town of Kailua-Kona. Kailua-Kona was once the seat of the Hawaiian monarchy, with King Kamehameha the Great choosing to preside over his kingdom from his home at Ahuena Heiau. Kailua-Kona is also host to many excellent restaurants, shops and entertainment options.

The entire Keauhou area was highly prized and populated by the ali‘i or Hawaiian royalty. Keauhou Bay was a launching point for canoes and the waters directly offshore the Holua Kai community are some of the richest fishing waters and best snorkeling and diving conditions to be found anywhere in the world. The Holua Kai at Keauhou community takes its name from the ancient holua slide that connects the mountain to the sea in Keauhou Bay. Holua sledding was a sport that was typically reserved for the ali‘i or royalty. Residents of Holua Kai will be only a short stroll or bike ride to this famous bay and all of the wonderful water-based adventure that it offers.

Much like the kama‘aina homes of the past, Holua Kai’s plantation-style homes have been specifically designed to connect indoor and outdoor spaces by virtue of large open floor plans that maximize natural ventilation and lighting. These thoughtful and esoterically-pleasing designs will take advantage of the cool sea breezes and amazing panoramic and coastline views from this oceanfront community. The homes will also feature living areas facing lush landscaped courtyards and beautiful vistas of the surrounding mountains and ocean. The homes overlook the manicured second, third, and fourth fairways of the Kona Country Club Ocean Course.

Holua Kai at Keauhou boasts scenic streetscapes and private residential courtyards in a gated, pedestrian-friendly community. Also offered are resort-style amenities including a pool, spa, and gathering pavilion. Forty customized homes with expertly-designed kitchens, the finest materials, and the latest in home convenience technology will meet the most demanding standards of today’s discriminating buyer.

One- or two-story single family residences will be built with 3 – 4 bedrooms and 2.5 – 3 baths ranging from approximately 1,851 – 2,685 square feet. Homes also include a two-car garage and spacious covered lanai.

Start planning your dream. Your new home at Holua Kai awaits you.
